

Mrs. W. H. Booth, and Mrs. Annette Culmer gave the paper of the afternoon, her topic being John Ruskin.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church held a meeting this week and completed arrangements for their annual Christmas bazaar. This year it will begin on Wednesday evening, Dec. 2, with a meeting at 7 o'clock in the direction of Mr. Nettleton. The bazaar proper will be open Thursday and Friday, when all kind of useful and pretty articles for the holiday time will be displayed.

The Woman's club met this week with Mrs. Allen T. Sanford.

The International Woman's Suffrage convention, at its meeting in Washington in February, 1902, organized an international suffrage committee for the purpose of thoroughly organizing the suffrage work throughout the world. It is announced that the work of organization has been fairly well completed. The organized societies for women's suffrage, or, in those countries where societies do not exist, gatherings of the leading women workers, have each named three members to form national sub-committees in the following countries: England, Australia, Germany, France, Denmark, Holland, Sweden and the United States. The direct object of the international organization is to collect and exchange information about the progress of women of all nations.

The German representatives on the committee are Frau Anna Augspurg, the first woman lawyer in Germany; Frau Anna Heymann, and Frau Minna Cauer, both well known for their literary and philanthropic work. The British committee consists of Mrs. Fenwick Miller, Miss F. Halliday, secretary to the British Union of Suffrage societies, and Miss Methven, who holds the same position in the Scottish union. Miss Vida Goldstein, well known in this country, is on the Australian committee, and Miss Hubertine Auclet is one of the French members. It was Miss Auclet who originated the idea of the suffrage stamp which has been taken up in the United States. The American suffrage stamp cap and gown, holding in her hand an inscription stating that "In Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho women have all votes." The stamp is affixed to letters sent out by the most ardent suffragists, in addition, of course, to the regular stamp.

Texas club women are interested in the new building for women recently completed at the state university, Austin. The building has been largely furnished by the clubs.

The new directors of the New Jersey State federation are: Miss Elizabeth A. Demarest, Passaic; Mrs. Stuart Reed, Madison; and Mrs. Edward C. Miles, Roselle. Delegates to the biennial are Miss Mary McKee, Mrs. Stewart Hartshorne, Short Hills; Mrs. Mary B. Kingsley, Hoboken; Mrs. Charles B. Yardley, East Orange; Miss Belle R. Snyder, Montclair; Dr. M. E. DeHart, Jersey City; Mrs. John L. Meeker, Newark; and Miss Elizabeth B. Vermilye, Englewood.

The abandonment of the project to establish a park on the Palisades, for years the pet scheme of the federation, seems something, but it seemed to be defeated by common sense and reason, and some comfort was derived from the determination to erect a suitable memorial to the work done by the New Jersey women in preserving the Palisades, on the land acquired by the Interstate Palisades Park commission.

It is encouraging to its advocates to note even slight growth of a movement labored so earnestly for the extension of suffrage for women. Resolutions offered by Miss Eva Channing at the meeting of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage association, Oct. 30, were, in part, as follows:

Resolved: That we rejoice in the registration of $50,000 newly enfranchised women voters in Australia; in the extension to Kansas women of the right to vote on all bonds for public improvements; in our association's growth in membership; in the increased school vote of women in Boston; and in the growth everywhere of public opinion in favor of equal rights for women. That we congratulate the women of Kansas on their victory at the recent school elections in abolishing requirements made of women teachers that were not required of men.

Suicide Prevented.
The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nerve will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

IN WOMAN'S WORLD.

A bright housekeeper has discovered a new system of labelling jelly and preserve glasses. She buys a roll of white, transparent binding for about eight cents. This is well gummed on one side, and she uses as long or as short a piece as the label calls for. The pasting process is much more quickly gotten through than when separate labels are used.

A variation of fried potatoes is obtained by slicing an egg or French potato, soaking in cold water to extract the starch overnight if possible, and rolling in fine cornmeal before plunging in deep fat.

Potatoes stewed with bacon are also good and "different." Prepare creamed potatoes in the usual way, using cold, boiled potatoes cut in cubes, and stewed in a cream sauce. When they have simmered about five minutes add bacon which has been cut into tiny squares and fried until slightly brown. They should be well drained before they are put with the potatoes, as a greasy dish is not desired.

Put a quart of ripe currants in a caudron, with just enough water to keep them from burning, and cook slowly until the juice runs freely. Squeeze them and measure the juice. To a pint of this add a pound of white sugar. Put both on the fire and bring to a boil. Beat six eggs very light in a bowl, and pour upon them the boiling juice, stirring through vigorously. Return to the stove and cook until it thickens, beating all the while. Turn it out to cool, continue to beat it for a few minutes after it comes from the fire, and freeze. A half a teaspoonful of sugar, set over the fire until boiling; take off; when cool, add a teaspoonful of gelatin dissolved in warm water. Stir in the nutmeg and whip with half a pint of thick cream, add to the mixture, turn into a mould, and set on ice.

Take a pint of ripe currants or hickory nut kernels, rub the skins off with a coarse towel, and pound to a paste with a little white of an egg. Make a custard of half a pint of sweet milk, the yolks of two eggs, and half a teaspoonful of sugar. Set over the fire until boiling; take off; when cool, add a teaspoonful of gelatin dissolved in warm water. Stir in the nutmeg and whip with half a pint of thick cream, add to the mixture, turn into a mould, and set on ice.

Into one quart of chopped peaches stir a cup of water, 1 pound of sugar, and the unbeaten whites of five eggs. Turn all into the freezer and grind until firm. The fruit will be in the mass into a delicious, frothy "surprise." You may use any fruit you choose in the place of peaches.

Scald one quart of cream and one cupful of sugar in a double boiler with an inch piece of vanilla bean; cool, and then add violet coloring and freeze. Mould in a ring, and fill the center with a pyramid of whipped cream and candied violets.

Peach jelly would be delicious, it is flavored, if it were possible to make it. Good Housekeeping offers this hint, which is worth noting: "A dessert spoonful of elder vinegar added to each cupful of peach or pear juice supplies the lack of pectin in these fruits, and good, firm jelly results from the combination."

Put the thin rind of a small lemon into breakfast-cupful of thick cream. Let it remain for an hour or more, then take it out, and add a small tea-spoonful of lemon-juice, a dessert-spoonful of sugar, and a glass of sherry. Beat these thoroughly, and place the froth, as it is made, on a sieve to drain, and let it remain five or six hours. When ready to serve, put it on a glass dish with a border of macaroons or coconut biscuits round it.

Make a cream sauce with two table-spoons of butter, three level table-spoons of Kingsford's Oatmeal Starch and a cup of milk. Beat into this the yolk of an egg and season highly with paprika and a little salt. Add two table-spoons of grated cheese, and when melted remove from fire and stir in gently one and one-half cups of mild cheese cut in cubes. Cool the mixture thoroughly, shape into squares or diamonds and bread them as any croquette. Fry in hot fat, drain well on soft paper and serve in a nest of parsley or lettuce.

Chiffon, especially white and light-colored, will bear washing several times if carefully handled. Veils, unlined waists, scarfs, even accordion-plaited skirts may be washed at home. Use plenty of warm water in which a little borax is dissolved, and castile soap. Rub gently with the hands and squeeze the dirt out, afterwards rinsing in clear water. Shake the garment gently and dry it in the following manner: Stretch a clean sheet over a bed, pinning it down tightly. With plenty of steel pins, pin the chiffon to this stretching it into shape and seeing that it is quite smooth everywhere. The process is easy with veils and scarfs, and not impossible with waists. Before washing accordion platings run a basting thread firmly through the lower edge of all the plaits, gathering them in a bunch. After washing hang the plaits in a draft with a weight attached to the edge to keep the plaits straight.

A rich little cake served at an English tea table was nothing more than fruit cake cut into small cubes and food with a boiled icing, flavored with almond extract. A scrap of angelica ornamented each cake.

Restore creased ribbons by laying them evenly on a board or table and dampen them with a clean sponge and a little clear water. Then roll them tightly and smoothly around a good-sized bottle or wine bottle will do.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best Salve on earth and will prevent fatality, when Burns, Sores, Ulcers and Piles threaten. Only 25c, at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.
